

Health services for military members

Calian has been keeping Canada's military personnel fit for duty for more than 20 years by delivering sustainable healthcare personnel management and solutions

Why choose us?

Extensive expertise

We are the leading provider of health services for the Canadian Armed Forces and offer health solutions at more than 35 military installations across the country.

Accessible care

We can provide digital delivery healthcare solutions to ensure healthcare access for military personnel, no matter where they are located.

Key services

On-site healthcare

The Canadian Department of National Defence contracts Calian to recruit, hire and manage healthcare providers for in-garrison medical, mental health and dental clinics with a wide range of healthcare services.

Optimizing workflow

We have advanced technologies that can be used to improve the efficiency and reach of military healthcare resources.

Improving patient engagement

We work with our customers to leverage virtual care to reduce wait times and improve access to care for military personnel.

Psychological services

We provide psychiatrists, nurses, mental health and clinical social workers to conduct psychological assessments and provide treatment supporting your team's mental health.
